Benefits of adopting Fun and Friends Book Club

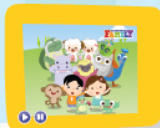

Reading Across the Curriculum (RaC) made FUN, EASY, WIDE-REACHING, and ENRICHING.

RaC aims to provide opportunities for students to broaden their knowledge base, through applying and consolidating the reading skills and strategies developed in language lessons.

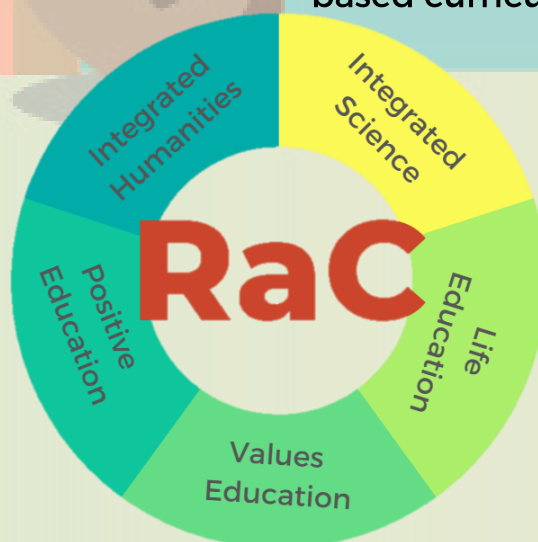

5

Blended online readers and print books aligned with the EDB English Language Curriculum Guide make blended learning easy for any school-based curriculum.

Non-language KLAs provide authentic contexts for the promotion of RaC.

Teachers of non-language KLAs can select appropriate reading materials with related themes/topics to help students connect their learning experiences and raise their awareness of the language features that are typical in these texts.

2

Non-fiction books cover a wide range of authentic topic areas and text types, to help learners build confidence and develop reading skills.

Exposure to world knowledge equips learners with global vision and critical thinking skills.

3

Fiction books feature lovable characters that engage learners' interest in reading.

4

Make Reading a Habit!

6

Reward schemes with attractive prizes help transform reading into a habit.
